$20,000 LOSS THIS MORNING AS BARN BURNS

Damage was estimated at "possibly in excess of $20,000" by firemen this morning when a barn at the farm of William J. Mosser, New Oxford R. 2, between Hunterstown and New Chester, was destroyed by fire.

Destroyed with the barn were a hay shed and a pig pen, attached to the larger structure; a dairy cow, several calves, and large quantities of hay, and farm equipment.

The fire was discovered by two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Mosser, Billy and Bruce, who were awakened by the light of the flames. They awakened their father and he saw fire shooting from the barn roof.

Meantime Paul Wine, who lives nearby, had been awakened by the glow of the fire and ran to the home of James Ford, nearby. Ford, after being awakened, admitted Wine who called firemen while Ford dressed. Wine and Ford ran to the Mosser farm, to find the family, awakened by that time.

Save Small Buildings

New Oxford, Biglerville and Gettysburg firemen responded to the alarm and were able to save a number of smaller farm buildings near the barn.

Eighteen head of beef cattle were all believed to have made their way out of the blazing structure before the barn was destroyed. A horse also made its way from the structure and the hogs were released from the pig pen before fire reached them. The cow, tied to a stallion, and the six-month-old calves, confined to a pen in the barn, were destroyed when the family was unable to reach them because of the fire.

Machinery Burns

Destroyed in the blaze was a quantity of hay owned by Forrest Ogburn, whose farm in near the Mosser place, and who farms much of the Mosser land. Also destroyed was a large quantity of farm machinery including a corn sheller owned by Ford, which had been loaned some time previously to the Mosser.

Mosser, employed on bridge construction work near York, purchased the farm in 1953 from George Adams. The place, known as the old Robert Weaver farm, at one time was owned by G. R. Thompson, Gettysburg.

CITES GROWTH OF AUXILIARY IN CASHTOWN

Mrs. Gladys Rebert, retiring secretary of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Cashtown Fire Company, who gave a summary of the activities of the organization since it was formed in March, 1951, said that the group has grown from 15 to 128 members in that period.

"By this fact alone," she said, "we should be inspired to grow greater, finer and better than in past years. It takes principle and character to begin with nothing and to build something fine and good for the community as we have done." She served as secretary for about six years.

The auxiliary met Monday evening in the engine house at Cashtown instead of the fire hall because of the remodeling underway in the latter building. A covered dish supper was held with 29 members in attendance.

Have $1,700 Balance

Mrs. Crowell Bucher, treasurer, announced a balance of more than $1,700 in the treasury. The auditors were Mrs. Milo Diehl and Mrs. Floyd King.

Mr. Haenn suffered a bruised chest and a number of cuts about the face. Both were reported as "doing satisfactorily" at the hospital.

The local couple had spent a week with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shrift, New Germany, and were on their way home, about 50 miles from New Germany and 15 miles from Altoona, when the car skidded on the ice on a hill and left the road.

STORY OF NEW MINING FIRM TOLD TO LIONS

The story of the founding and growth of the Summit Mining Corporation which is estimated to have "added $200,000 to the economy of Adams County" in the last year and a half was described by George W. Ahl Jr., president of the company, in a talk before the Gettysburg Lions Club Monday evening at the Shetter House.

Mr. Ahl's account began with the discovery in 1948 of the deposits of aluminum silicate, sometimes called "soapstone," in sections of Adams, Cumberland and York Counties, and the development of chemical and industrial uses for this "non-metallic metal."

The company incorporated in 1950 and found its first market for their product in the agricultural chemical market as a diluent. "Slowly but surely," Ahl said, "we found new market outlets and contracted with a Dillsburg firm to process our raw material by the ton while we continued our market research that led next to the pipe-emal business."

50,000 Tons This Year

They planned and built the Aspers plant to provide raw facilities. The original plant contained 7,200 square feet. The first equipment of its kind was installed there to process the raw material through primary and secondary crushers and pulverizers into a powder form. A second mill was installed and the plant now has a capacity of 72,000 tons a year on a seven-days-a-week basis.

The company now sends its products into 16 states by rail and motor transport and four foreign countries. Direct sales and distributors are used to reach markets. The rubber, caulking material and plastics industries are offering opportunities for market expansion, Ahl said. The plant processed 983 tons in 1953, 29,000 tons last year and aims at 50,000 tons in 1957.

"The future looks very good," Ahl said, "with our strategic location, our plans for upgrading our product and with widening markets. Since May 1, 1955, the company has marketed over $400,000 worth of its product that sold at $8 to $13 per ton." (Continued On Page 9)

The FBI Story — by Don Whitehead

CHAPTER 20

Perilous Flight South Of Border

German emigrants to South American countries before World War II kept strong national ties, and often provided the nucleus of spy and propaganda rings. Here, in a scene from a confiscated German news film, German sailors are shown dancing with German girls to concertina music at an outing near Rio de Janeiro, as Brazilian and Nazi flags fly overhead.

"You are a better judge than I as to whether the time has come to tell the story of the western hemisphere operation. Told or not, it is the story of a great piece of work. I do not think a similar operation has ever been carried on; and I can personally attest to the brilliance of its results." (From a 1946 letter written by former Asst. Secretary of State Adolf A. Berle Jr. to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.)

For more than 16 years the FBI has remained silent about its amazing operation in which special agents often risked their lives in helping smash the Nazis' World War II spy networks in Central and South America. Four agents were killed in carrying out their missions, all in airplane crashes.

The story began in 1940, when President Roosevelt and others in his administration realized with grave concern, from evidence obtained in spy cases, that Axis agents had established a string of espionage bases from Mexico City southward to the Strait of Magellan.

German Migration
Actually, South America had become a staging ground for Nazi spies being slipped into the United States. Information on American defense and industrial efforts was being funneled through South America to Germany. Clandestine radio stations beamed on Hamburg, Cologne and Brussels were pumping military, political and economic reports to the Nazis' spy headquarters.

Long before Hitler's star had begun to rise, Germans had migrated to South America and settled in the growing countries in colonies which, for the most part, clung to German customs, language and culture.

The Nazi movement took hold in these areas. Germans wore the uniforms of storm troopers and carried the Nazi flag on ceremonial occasions. There were German youth movements, a German labor front, a German Workers' Party, and a German war veterans' organization.

FBI Agents Go South
FBI Director Hoover discussed the problem early in May with Asst. Secretary of State Berle, and again in early June with Berle, Gen. Sherman Miles, assistant chief of staff of Army G-2, and Admiral Walter S. Anderson, director of Naval Intelligence. Out of these meetings came a proposal for the organization of a Special Intelligence Service (SIS) to operate in the foreign field.

FBI agents were soon drifting south. Most of them were men who had developed special skills in undercover work, and they went south secretly.

One undercover agent went to South America as a soap salesman for an American concern whose officials never suspected his role with the FBI. He sold so much soap within a few months that the company had to expand its import and distribution operations. A local businessman who had been with a firm which had given up the franchise was howling to get it back. Meantime the demon soap salesman had made valuable contacts in business and government circles.

Inkeeper Helps
In an Argentine city, a boyish-looking American arrived to work as a reporter. He joined local clubs and soon he was sending articles to the United States and receiving favorable comment from publications interested in Latin American affairs. This particular young reporter was an FBI agent whom we shall call George Stevens. A favorite hang-out of his was a small hotel operated by a man whose parents still lived in a country overrun by the Nazis.

Somehow the innkeeper seemed to absorb all the talk that passed across his tables in the course of a day. Stevens decided to try to enlist his help.

Over a cup of coffee, Stevens said, "I would like to do a series of stories on the national groups in the city. I'd like your help in gathering the information." He watched closely to see what the man's reaction would be.

The man looked at the young American for a full minute. Then he said quietly, "If I give you this information, will it reach the right people?"

Police Follow Agent
Stevens nodded. "Yes. And I promise you'll never be embarrassed." There was no other agreement or explanation. None was needed. They understood each other.

"I never knew anyone like this man," Stevens recalled later. "At least once a week the police would follow me. But I always knew in advance when I was to be followed — and that was always the day I worked hard at being a reporter. That was always the day I would call on the chief of detectives, telling him I just happened to be passing by and would he have a cup of coffee with me. It must have driven the guy nuts — and the detectives who were trailing me, too. They never knew I was being tipped by the innkeeper, who had a well-placed friend at the police station."

"One day our people got word to me that two Germans suspected of espionage had driven by automobile into a neighboring country. I was supposed to find out who they were, where they had gone, whom they had seen, and if they were coming back. That's a pretty tough assignment when you don't even know the names of the men."

"Well, I went to my friend. He said to come back in a few days. I went back. He said come back later. I went back later. He shook his head. He said, 'Come back tomorrow.' I figured he was stalling."

"When I returned, he gave me a typewritten report identifying the Germans. He knew where they had gone and he even had the gist of their conversation as they drove as well as the fact they were to meet later in Argentina. And instead of two Germans there had been three. It was one of the most detailed reports I ever saw and it helped uncover an espionage ring."

"Would you mind telling me how you got it?" I asked him.

"He smiled and said: 'The man who drove their car was one of my men. When those people ask for a car in this city, the driver always is my man.'"

Stevens once almost wrecked his relationship with the innkeeper. "He did so much for us I offered to pay for the information. I thought he was going to throw me out of his place. But he cooled off and said: 'What I do for you, I do from my heart — not for money.' I finally got out of an awkward situation by saying I didn't mean he should take money personally but that I felt he should allow me to help pay the expense of gathering information for us."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Small Pox Near Bendersville: The Town and Vicinity Again Alarmed — Edward G. Guider, the victim — Smallpox has again made its appearance in Adams county. Edward G. Guider, who has been traveling through the south and west, arrived at his home near Bendersville a few days ago and became critically ill. His symptoms resembled that of smallpox and Dr. George L. Rice, representative of the State Health Board for Adams county, was sent for and pronounced it a genuine case.

The victim of the disease is isolated in an abandoned mill, which is being guarded to prevent the spread of the loathsome disease. As will be remembered the disease broke out in Bendersville two years ago, when Rev. Barnhart died from the same. The vicinity is greatly perturbed and every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

Mr. Guider is said to have a bad case, being seriously ill.

Large Fortune Promised: According to an article in the York Dispatch of recent date, Henry F. Sionaker, of this place, may receive an immense fortune. He is one of the heirs to the estate of Thomas Leonard, who died in Gettysburg 100 years ago and is buried here. Deceased is said to have owned property at Princeton and Egg Harbor in New Jersey which to-day is immensely valuable. Besides this, there was an interest in a coal mine in Western Pennsylvania which was a portion of the estate, and this has been disposed of for $200,000. Some part of the New Jersey real estate is now occupied by the Pennsylvania Railroad and it is expected that the ownership of this portion of the estate will be disputed.

In explanation of the fact that the estate is just now to be settled it is said that Thomas Leonard had a single child, a daughter. He thought much of her and his plans were all for a brilliant future for the child. To his bitter disappointment she fell in love with William Sionaker, a penniless man of Gettysburg, and in his anger and disappointment the father declared that neither they nor any of their children should have a penny of his estate.

The will he made was unique. It provided that his estate should accumulate until the third generation of his heirs and that 100 years after his death it should be divided among those who survived of the third generation, or their children.

Philadelphia lawyers who have charge of the estate, have notified the heirs that the time has expired and that the settlement is being arranged.

Cock Fight Stopped: During the past cock fights, it is said, have secretly been held at various places in and about Gettysburg and the authorities have been endeavoring to prevent the same.

On last Thursday it leaked out that a large cock fight had been arranged for, to take place at the Springs Hotel that evening. The matter was brought to the attention of the authorities, information was made, and Sheriff Colestock deputized thirty citizens of the town, who proceeded to the hotel about 10 o'clock, but on reaching there they found the place in its usual quiet condition, those interested having evidently heard of the move. Later it was reported that the "sports" — most of whom were strangers from York, Harrisburg, Baltimore, Lancaster, Carlisle and Chambersburg, had adjourned to another point. The sheriff and his posse later visited other places but like the former, there was "nothing doing" and of course no arrests were made. However, the fight was stopped by the action of the officials, and the "sports" returned home greatly disappointed.

Firemen's Banquet: Never in the history of the Gettysburg Fire Company has there been a banquet served to that organization like that of last Wednesday evening by Proprietor Kindig of the Hotel Wabash. The elaborate menu, as

Today's Talk

A DOG'S LIFE

A dog's life is not so colorless a life as we sometimes witness it to be. A dog is dependent upon human beings, but in return he gives love, companionship, devotion and loyalty to their extremity. That little tail of his never stops wagging in the presence of those whom he knows are his friends.

The dog is not only man's best friend, but friend to all — man, woman or child. I have no idea as to what his language is, but he knows the language of love, kindness, and consideration. His faithfulness is that which only ends with death, and the affection for him remains long after he has gone to his reward.

Look into that honest face of his. What a world of meaning lies in the fire and sparkle of those searching eyes! Hurt his feelings in any way, and his dignity and devotion are hurt beyond understanding. Yet he will not resent. He is more forgiving than his master. And he stretches his memory to the kindnesses rendered long before. He forgives, but he also remembers.

His life is as nothing when he can perform a sacrifice to prove his devotion and endless love. His intelligence is beyond analysis. His master may be great or lowly. It matters nothing to him. His only thought is to serve and to bring cheer where it is so greatly needed at times. I once said that you could see God in the wag of a dog's tail, and I believe you can. He knows his friends. Beware of that dog whose tail does not wag!

There is a famous dog cemetery near where I live, and I am not one to say that a dog does not merit a decent memorial where the spring blossoms give forth their fragrance and birds sing their sweetest songs in his memory. Blessed beyond words are his ashes in the lap of Mother Earth.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Jesse Stuart's Rebirth"

Just Folks

PURPOSE
Each one of us, while the flesh is warm,
Will have succeeded
If he or she has hastened to perform
Some service needed.

The moment comes. If aid we can supply,
And gladly do it,
Although we may not know just how or why
God led us to it.

Life is a term for useful service meant.
Some purpose needed.
That if on self our strength were wholly spent
Might go unheeded.

COUNTY BOARD

county superintendent call a meeting of two representatives from each of the 14 school districts involved to determine sentiment among the various boards concerning the matter.

Want Accord Before Change
The county board was agreed that it was not going to change the present county plan for school development until final agreement is reached among the school districts involved, holding that "if you can't get agreement before any change is made, you'll never get it afterward," as the county superintendent put it.

C. S. Sponseller, member of the county board from New Oxford, held during the discussion that "we may be bullheaded, but I don't think the Lower Adams joint board would give up the high school at New Oxford."

William M. Lott, Gardners, in discussing the possible change in the joint system, had suggested the possibility that a new high school building be constructed which "would not be located in any of the towns where there are high schools now." He held that a new high school should be centrally located, probably in the general area of Hampton.

Was Rejected Before
The discussion also indicated that it might be possible to construct a central senior high school and retain junior high schools in the York Springs, New Oxford and East Berlin areas where there are present high school buildings. Members of the board said "there are many reasons why junior and senior high schools should not be under one roof. They are completely different schools with different activities." At present, finances — because of the savings affected by using the same facilities for both junior and senior high school — have caused most junior-senior high schools to be in the same structure.

East Berlin directors have been active in promoting the "one big jointure" idea, according to reports at the meeting.

Several years ago when the matter was being discussed the 14 school districts involved were asked to vote on whether they wanted one big jointure or two joint systems constructed from the three present joint systems which the state claims are too small. At that time the boards voted 11 to 2 in favor of two districts with one board not voting. As a result of that vote the county board adopted a county plan calling for two jointures.

Approve Local Petition
Whether that county plan should be revised will be decided following the meeting with the representatives of the various school boards.

Approval was given to the petition of the Gettysburg Joint School System for approval of its site, on county home land off E. Broadway,

"Scouting is on its way in the Black Walnut District, and it needs the support of the people more than ever before," Lentz told the special girls group at a meeting Monday afternoon. "We have 623 Scouts compared to 407 a year ago. We have 325 adult leaders, scoutmasters, den mothers, committeemen and others. We have 24 Boy Scout units, six Cub packs, 12 Boy Scout troops and six Explorer posts in the district."

Add More Units

"We added five new scout units last year and according to present plans we will add four more in the near future. Our membership should total 700 boys in the next few months."

"Activities" in the troops have increased by more than 50 per cent and as an example of the manner in which the scouting program is advancing we have ten young men scheduled to come before the board of review next month for star and life badges. This is in addition to boys receiving second class and first class advancement before boards of review in their own troops. In addition we have two young men due for Eagle Scout awards, the highest rank in scouting.

"The youngsters have the will, scouting has the program. It is up to us as countians to obtain the funds needed to make sure the program reaches every body who wants it. Scouting in the district now for the first time has a full time field executive and his presence has done much to bring a new life to scouting locally."

NORTH CAROLINA TAR HEELS FAR UP FRONT IN POLL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A week of idleness for both teams brought no change in the race between North Carolina and Kansas for top ranking in college basketball, but a single game was costly to Iowa State's hopes.

The eighth weekly Associated Press ranking poll of sports writers and broadcasters again found North Carolina's Tar Heels far out ahead of Kansas, which has held the lead up to last week. Unbeaten Carolina went to the front after Kansas dropped its first game of the season to Iowa State.

Iowa State's 69-66 loss to Missouri sent it tumbling from third place to eighth. Louisville's Cardinals, who edged out Dayton 57-56 in their only game of the week, moved up to third.

62 First-Place Votes

North Carolina got 62 of a possible 86 first-place votes and a total of 824 points on the basis of 10 for each first-place vote, 9 for second, etc. Kansas drew 8 firsts and 715 points.

Kentucky, a 91-83 winner over Vanderbilt, moved up to fourth; and Illinois, which whipped Notre Dame 99-81, went up from ninth to seventh. Seattle slid back one notch to ninth.

Southern Methodist stayed in sixth. UCLA took over fifth place by a margin of three points over the Mustangs.

The Top Twenty

Bradley barely held its 10th position by a two-point margin over Ohio State.

The top 10, with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. North Carolina (62) — 824

Would Exchange 10 Yanks For 33 Others

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Indian government radio quoted Red China's Premier Chou En-lai today as saying Peiping would consider exchanging 10 imprisoned Americans for 33 Chinese that Chou said were being held in the United States.

The radio said Chou made the statement in a news conference in Kathmandu before leaving that capital of Nepal on his South Asian tour. He arrived at Calcutta later today.

Chou said Peiping would consider the exchange proposal—he did not say who made the proposal—but would not allow its policies toward the United States to be influenced by American policies toward China.

WESTINGHOUSE EXPECTS BOOM

By WILLIAM A. SWARTHWORTH

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Top executives of giant Westinghouse Electric Corp., gripped by a costly five-month strike in 1955-56, look for booming business this year.

At a news conference called to explain where Westinghouse stands today—10 months after the strike—corporate officials said vigorous planning, programming and promotion have given the company a solid competitive position.

Gwilyn A. Price, board chairman and president, said that from May through December sales and orders for new business ran 182 to 185 million dollars a month.

Big Backlog

Price said the firm has a big backlog of unfilled orders and 1957 sales are expected to soar to a new record of some two billion dollars.

Total Westinghouse employment is at an all-time high now of about 128,000.

Westinghouse chalked up net 1956 sales in excess of 1½ billion dollars, due chiefly to an upsurge in the final six-month period.

Despite a first-quarter loss of about 18½ million, net income for the year was about 15½ million.

In 1955 the strike began in October of that year. Westinghouse's income amounted to more than 42½ million. It was nearly 90 million in 1954.

DEMARET WINS OVER SOUCHAK AND VENTURI

By BOB MYERS

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — The winter golfing trail winds on to Arizona today with Jimmy Demaret, the hero of the moment, returning to Phoenix and the scene of two past triumphs.

The popular Demaret, who admits and insists he is only 44, demonstrated that whatever his age he can still teach the youngsters how to use a set of clubs.

Jimmy, Kamesha Lake, N. Y. pro, gave a couple of young men, Mike Souchak, of Grossinger, N. Y., and Ken Venturi, 25-year-old neophyte pro from San Francisco, quite a lesson yesterday.

Fine Putting Round

Playing off the tie of the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational, Demaret defeated Mike by 8 strokes and Venturi by 9 as he toured Thunderbird's par 36-35-71 course in 32-35-67.

This was his third Thunderbird victory and it was worth $2,000. Souchak won $1,000 and Venturi $750.

Modestly, Demaret admitted this was one of his finest putting rounds. He led off with three straight birdies with putts of 8, 13 and 36 feet.

Others Had Trouble

He had other birdie putts — 4, 12 and 15 feet — and the gallery was actually groaning when he missed things that measured 25 feet and aren't generally made. Then they would laugh and Jimmy laughed with them.

Both Souchak and Venturi had trouble hitting the fairways and Venturi's chances went boom when he shot a pair of double bogey 7s.

Carlisle seeks First Half Title Here Tonight

A chance, however slim, to throw the first half race of the South Penn Basketball League into a tie awaits the Gettysburg High cagers this evening when they entertain the league-leading Carlisle dribblers.

Carlisle needs but to down the Warriors to wrap up the first half race. However, a surprise Warrior win would give Hanover, Middletown and Hershey the opportunity of moving into a tie. Hanover would have to win at Shippensburg, Middletown at Chambersburg and Hershey at Waynesboro to take advantage of a Gettysburg upset.

The Warriors are in the throes of a five-game losing skein and are given little chance of jolting the Herd. But the Forney-men concede nothing and promise an all-out effort.

The Jayvee teams clash at 6:45. Adams County League games tonight include Fairfield at Rolling Springs, Biglerville at New Oxford, Littlestown at East Berlin, and Big Spring at York Springs.

NEW GAME BOOK IS AVAILABLE

The fact that food and cover are most important in determining wild game populations is widely accepted by informed sportsmen as well as wildlife management professionals. But how to go about producing the best game habitat is a difficult problem for many persons and organizations.

Early in 1953 the Game Commission published a booklet that went a long way toward instructing amateur "game managers" in improving habitat for wildlife. Titled "Food and Cover for Farm Wildlife," it was authored by John B. Sedam, then supervisor of the Food and Cover Section of the Commission's Land Management Division. This free publication contained many photos and sketches portraying the "what, when, where and how" of plantings, cuttings and other practices which produce more small game, fur animals and waterfowl.

Recently the booklet was revised by Sedam and republished. It shows and tells the food requirements of each game or fur animal. Detailed information is given on such management techniques as field borders, winter cover crops, gully plantings, marsh and pond management, what trees, shrubs, vines and seed mixtures are best for wildlife, how to plant and cultivate them, and much more.

Guide For Sportsmen

The booklet was produced as a guide to sportsmen who want to provide the necessities of life for wild birds and animals on their club grounds, dog training areas, or other lands under their control. It was published also in the belief that many farmers now consider wildlife a crop — a product of the soil like corn or beef or timber — and want to know how to produce more game and fur.

"Food and Cover for Wildlife" is available as a conservation education service from the Game Commission's Harrisburg headquarters or from field division offices. It is not too early for anyone desiring to improve wildlife habitat to start planning spring work projects. This guide provides the knowhow to make them easier and much more successful.

Except...

Up to two years ago, the look-alike Solomon twins did the same things together. Even had polio at the same time.

Except...

Linda recovered completely. Sandy didn't.

Even today, after some $1500 in March of Dimes help, she needs braces and crutches to get around.

Except...

Sandy, like thousands of other polio victims, still needs a lot more treatment. She'll get it—as much as she needs. You, who made the Salk vaccine possible, can provide that care. And, what is more, your dimes and dollars will also help train the minds and hands of the professional experts so desperately needed to give it.

He's Just Beginning to Fight

The dollar in your pocket now will help make it possible for him to walk without braces.

And more:

It will help train the hands and minds of many professional experts, all desperately needed... it will help finance research to perfect the vaccine.

Tens of thousands born too soon for the vaccine still need your help.

GIANT UNION OF TEAMSTERS IS DEFIANT

By NORMAN WALKER
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The giant teamsters union stood defiant today of a new AFL-CIO policy against union leaders invoking the Fifth Amendment to avoid testifying in labor racketeering cases.

The AFL-CIO policy written by Federation President George Meany endorsed by the AFL-CIO Executive Council, orders affiliated unions to oust any union official taking the Fifth Amendment "for his personal protection" in investigations.

"The policy is 100 per cent wrong," said Teamsters Union President Dave Beck. "It will come back to haunt the labor movement."

Back To Meany
Beck issued a statement saying the teamsters will continue letting their officials "invoke the privileges of the Bill of Rights, without, by such act alone, subjecting themselves to trial or disciplinary action by our union."

"The action taken by the Executive Council of the AFL-CIO does not in any way alter our position."

This appeared to toss the matter back to Meany and the AFL-CIO council.

But council members said regardless of Beck's position the council would make no move until some teamsters' union official invokes the Fifth Amendment without his union acting to remove him — as required by the new policy adopted here yesterday.

Explosion Possible
Meany made it clear to newsmen that any breach of the new policy would subject the non-complying union to possible expulsion from the AFL-CIO. The teamsters are the biggest AFL-CIO affiliate, claiming 1½ million of the total 15 million AFL-CIO members.

Refusal of some AFL-CIO union officials to give testimony by invoking the Fifth Amendment at recent preliminary Senate hearings into alleged labor racketeering is what prompted the new AFL-CIO stand.

In Washington Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), whose Senate investigations of alleged racketeering in labor unions brought the issues to a head, told newsmen: "I applaud

DULLES HAS NO INTENTION OF RESIGNING NOW

By JOHN SCALI
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles is reported to have no intention of resigning despite mounting attacks by some congressional foes on his handling of foreign policy.

Associates said today he has been somewhat surprised and stung by the sudden fury of Democratic assaults on him the past week during Senate hearings on President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution, but is nevertheless confident he can weather the storm.

Mention Herter
Eisenhower's continued confidence in Dulles may rest heavily on the secretary's ability to patch up strained relations with Senate Democrats who accused him of avoiding direct replies as they questioned him.

Newly named Undersecretary of State Christian Herter, former Republican governor of Massachusetts, is viewed by most informed officials as a likely successor to Dulles if he were to step aside.

Herter would need a "breaking in" period of some six months in order to handle the job, most informants acknowledge.

parent physical ill effects. He believes he has enough stamina to continue to direct the nation's foreign policy.

Two highly unpredictable factors could upset his determination to stay on: a breakdown in his health and a possible future Eisenhower decision he has become so controversial as to become a major political liability. Neither is now anticipated.

Financial Reports Filed
Huntington Twp. paid off $1,000 on its $4,000 debt during 1956 according to the annual report of the auditors filed with the county clerk of courts.

The township began the year with a cash balance of $1,307.72. Income included $4,512.14 from current taxes, $687.62 prior years taxes, $1,298.66 from real estate transfer tax of which $218.40 was from prior years; $150 from liquor tax, $120 fines, $15,079.60 state aid, $2,437.38 county aid, $237.80 for work performed, $129.45 foreign fire insurance tax, making the total income and balance $25,960.37.

Expenditures included $1,260.60 for general government, $100 for fire protection, $129.45 firemen's relief fund, $22,287.24 for highways, $344.88 miscellaneous, $160 for interest, and $1,000 for the note maturing last year, leaving a balance at the beginning of 1957 of $678.20.

The township has $1,289.93 in taxes outstanding. It maintains 37.20 miles of earth roads, 7.90 miles of improved road, including 1.40 miles added during the year, 15 wooden bridges and two concrete bridges.

Organization of boards as listed in the report was as follows: Auditors, Vance Stitzel, chairman; Lloyd L.

It's the longest, lowest, liveliest and loveliest
Ford ever...yet it's yours at low Ford prices!

New! You bet! There's nothing newer at any price. To begin with, the "Inner Ford" is completely new. The wheelbase is longer. You get a choice of two big new Ford sizes. The frame is wider. The inside is roomier. The roof is lower but high hats are welcome.

And the big new Ford is big in V-8 GO! You have a wide choice of Silver Anniversary V-8's for every horsepower need...or a new Mileage Maker Six. One of the biggest things about Ford is what it did at Bonneville, Utah. Here, the '57 Ford traveled 50,000 miles in less than twenty days! Need any more proof that the new kind of Ford is a ruggedly built top performer?

Best of all, big as this new Ford is, the price is still Ford-little. You can see why more than ever it's a car that will stay worth more. Why don't you try the big new Ford soon?

Try the new kind of
FORD
that makes luxury
a low-priced word!

Republicans Will Question Williamson On GOP, Residence

HARRISBURG (AP) — Senate Republicans today planned to call in Merritt E. Williamson personally before acting on his appointment by Gov. Leader to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

They want to know how long the 41-year-old dean of engineering at the Pennsylvania State University has been a registered Republican.

Another question will be on the length of his residence in Pennsylvania.

Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom posed the two questions in disclosing that Williamson will probably be given a hearing at a closed caucus of the Senate GOP majority.

President 4 Months

A private investigation, he said, has shown Williamson to be registered in State College only since last September. Bloom said he believed a year's residence is needed to become a commission member.

Leader sent Williamson's name to the Senate yesterday to head off the possibility of a lack of a commission quorum when his suspension of two members goes into effect tomorrow night.

Chairman G. Franklin McSorley, Before payments can begin.

Pittsburgh Democrat, and James F. Torrance, Export Republican, were suspended on the basis of indictments brought against them by a Dauphin grand jury after a probe of Turnpike Commission operations.

If Senate Republicans take no action on Williamson, commission operations may be forced to a standstill.

This could mean the technical default on more than 400 million dollars in bonds still outstanding and a wholesale legal mixup.

Other legislative developments: Korean Bonus—Both the House and Senate placed in position for a final vote late today a proposed constitutional amendment to authorize a 150-million-dollar bond issue to finance a Korean War bonus.

The amendment also calls for a tax program to be enacted to pay off the bonds but there were no signs that such a program would be made into law this session.

The Senate, however, received legislation spelling out that Korean War veterans would receive up to $500 for their service.

Farmers Hear Tax Consultant

Dr. Paul Walker, tax consultant of the Department of Agricultural Economics, University of Maryland, addressed the quarterly meeting of the Adams County Farmers' Association Monday at a meeting at the Adams Electric Cooperative building, rear of N. Stratton St.

Dr. Walker outlined the budgets for the various governmental agencies to explain "Where Your Tax Money Goes." He reported that more than 50 per cent of the national budget last year went for defense purposes. Farmer groups in Maryland, he said, are working together through a joint committee to make recommendations concerning local, state and federal taxes.

Paul Lerew Cork Springs, a director of the Pennsylvania Farmers Association, spoke on legislation affecting farmers including possible dairy farm unionization, secondary boycotts, a 50 per cent farm truck license fee and added that the 100 per cent gasoline tax refund bill will soon be before the legislature for re-enactment.

W. Clayton Jester, program committee chairman introduced the speakers. President George W. Stock presided at the meeting.

voters must give their approval of the bond issue at the ov. 5 general election.

State School Aid—The House received a bill last night intending to give school districts 4½ million dollars in state aid for a $200 extra pay boost given to teachers for the current school term.

The governor vetoed the school subsidy bill in the 1955 Legislature on the ground that insufficient money was appropriated. He endorsed the idea of re-submitting the bill during the session.

Propose Probe

Special Fund Probe—The House Rules Committee approved and sent to the floor a proposal for a grand jury probe of a $1,175,000 special fund in the Labor and Industry Department.

It was John R. Torquato's administration of this fund that brought about his dismissal as secretary of labor and industry. The GOP-sponsored resolution called on the governor to submit "all information and evidence of wrongdoing" with respect to the fund to the Dauphin County grand jury.

Keystone Shortway—Lawmakers backing efforts to expand U. S. 6 across northern Pennsylvania as part of the federal interstate highway system asked the House to oppose the proposed Keystone Shortway from Sharon to Stroudsburg.

"Virtual Bankruptcy"

Their resolution asked the Legislature to express its dissatisfaction with the shortway as a means of bringing about "virtual bankruptcy" of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. It went to committee.

Conflict-of-Interest—Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride said cinders involved in a $19,900 state contract came in part from cinder piles owned by the father of David V. Randall, secretary to the governor.

He said H. R. Randall, Ashland coal operator, was the source of some cinders purchased by Earle Nelson, Tower City, who in turn provided them to the low bidder on a state contract.

Deny Connection

McBride said the younger Randall's wife, Mrs. Helen Randall, had no connection with the trucking firm that was the low bidder. Rep. H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria) mentioned her name in a conflict-of-interest speech on the floor of the House yesterday.

The Randalls denied any connection with the trucking firm.

COMPLETES AIR COURSE

Airman Richard J. Wickline, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wickline, Biglerville, has completed the first phase of basic military training at the "Gateway to the Air Force," Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Tex. He is now taking part in the advanced basic training course following which he will qualify for assignment in one of the Air Force's 43 major career fields.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Frank W. O'Brien's battle to have his name placed on a ballot as candidate for director of District 16 of the United Steelworkers today entered its second day in Allegheny County Common Pleas Court.

O'Brien, a member of USW Local 1843 in Hazelwood, sought nomination to oppose incumbent John F. Murray for the directorship in the union election on Feb. 12.

The union's official board of tellers refused to place his name on the ballot on grounds he had nominations from only four locals instead of the required five.

O'Brien appealed to the union's executive board, which also turned down his plea. He then petitioned the court to issue an injunction banning the election in the district unless his name is on the ballot.

O'Brien contends he received the nominations of seven locals.

Time brings Changes...

but some significant changes aren't always as obvious, even to wide-awake people, as those that Rip Van Winkle noted after his twenty-year nap. The changes of a relatively few years in estate or tax laws, for example, may make revision of your Will advisable — even necessary. If you haven't reviewed your Will with your lawyer recently, you'll be wise to do so soon.
